From Response to Resilience

Environmentalism in Troubled Times

As a guideline, submissions should examine the response of the environmental movement to the current political, social, and environmental climate with particular emphasis on positive next steps. However, submissions on other themes will also be considered. Submissions can be from graduate students, faculty, and staff at the University of Oregon and beyond. The Ecotone will also accept submissions from undergraduate students for consideration. Please keep submissions to 1500 words or fewer.

Submission deadline is Tuesday, February 1, 2011.

Submissions can include:
- Nonfiction
- Academic research
- Fiction
- Poetry
- Visual art (paintings, photography, etc.)
